

Each rule made must by nature take away some right of somebody to act freely.
Let us make sure we make the rules most carefully.
Let us not integrate our malicious intents with a good cause or we only help our enemies.